JEWELLERY

Rosalyn's Emporium

TOP WEDDING TIP

"My top wedding tip is to stay focused on what means most to you as a couple. There is a vast amount of wedding inspiration out there & it's very easy to get swept up into the feeling of doing certain things / trends - you really do not have to do it all. I remember one friend's advice when we were getting married too "No one will know what's not there!". Only you will know the endless options of things you could've had. Make a list of your absolute 'musts' before you start researching & stick to it."

"My name is Roz & I am the founder of Rosalyn's Emporium, a bespoke jewellery business based in Chesham, Buckinghamshire. For 23 years I have been making jewellery following a degree in metalwork & jewellery. In 2016 I set up my own business specialising in Make Your Own wedding ring workshops, commissions (such as engagement rings or bridal jewellery), recycling & remodelling existing jewellery. I am deeply passionate about creating unique jewellery for each client & aim to not make the same thing twice unless a client specifically requests it."

My MYO wedding ring workshops are aimed at complete beginners & are a wonderful way to really add memorable value to rings you will wear for the rest of your married lives. We can work in any gold, including your own, platinum, palladium & silver. I can also source stones for you, add engraving & plating to complete your beautifully finished wedding rings."

WHY I LOVE WORKING IN THE WEDDING INDUSTRY

"My favourite thing about working in the wedding industry is the kindness and support fellow suppliers show to each other. I work on my own but by attending wedding fairs and through mutual clients I have built up an amazing set of wedding industry colleagues and friends. The wedding industry is a very tough group of businesses. If they survived 2020 then you really have to respect the resilience and determination these suppliers have. Please give them support and value their time and expertise. We are here to make your day the best it can be."

MUSIC

Julia Read

Bagpipe Service:

“Looking to add a touch of Scottish charm to your event? Look no further! I am an experienced Bagpiper dedicated to delivering a musical experience that will leave a lasting impression on your guests. My repertoire spans the rich heritage of Scottish bagpiping, creating an authentic and unforgettable atmosphere.

I have been playing the bagpipes since 1984, having learnt whilst a student of Electronic Engineering at Auckland University, New Zealand. I am an experienced band piper as well as solo. My family have a long heritage of playing the bagpipes. My grandfather piped for London Scottish and set up the Chingford Pipe Band in the 1950s. My mum was the pipe major of the band and my aunt was a piper in the famous Dagenham Girl Pipers.”

Harp Service:

“Beyond the beautiful music of the harp, I bring a personal touch to your event. My goal is to create an atmosphere filled with warmth and joy, leaving a lasting memory for you and your guests. Let's work together to make your event a truly unique and unforgettable experience.

I play what is known as a celtic, or lever harp. It is a Lyon and Healy Troubadour VI harp which has a lovely rich resonant sound. My repertoire on the harp consists of light classical music, pop, jazz and traditional Scottish melodies. Some of my harping highlights have included:

- playing in the same wedding suite in which Prince Charles married Camilla
- harpist for the many brides and grooms that I've played for over the years.”

Haylee Duo

“We are Hayley and Lee - an elegant, classy and talented female acoustic duo. We always strive to ensure we deliver beautiful, heartwarming and harmonious music to our client’s events tailored to their own personal unique taste.

The combination of Hayley’s warm and soulful voice along with Lee’s harmonies and guitar or piano backing makes us a complete must-have for your special occasion - creating beautiful memories you and your guests will never forget.

We have been performing for over 10 years and formed the duo, HayLee early 2023. We perform a wide range of pop, soft rock, soul and mow-town covers - ranging from olden classics to current radio hits. Depending on the occasion, we will entertain your guests with our elegant acoustic vibes in the background or bring the party to life with some real sing-a-long smash hits! We are looking forward to performing at your venue for that special occasion!”

TOASTMASTER

John Ashmele

Fellow of the Guild of Professional
Toastmasters

"My main aim as Master of Ceremonies at your wedding is to take the agreed plan and make it work on the day, so that everything runs smoothly and on time, and all the announcements are made using the correct etiquette. After all those months of planning and preparation, this is when you want everything to be just right, so that you can relax with your family and friends and let me soak up most of the stress."

"I have an eye for detail and a light touch to ensure that your function, including weddings of most cultures, is enjoyable and memorable for all the right reasons. I work with people, not clients, and have been told that I have a positive personality, a calm and reassuring manner, and a sense of occasion that befits a traditional role."

"I should like to invite you to meet me, without obligation beyond an hour of your time, to discuss the details of your wedding day. I can offer expert planning advice on procedure, timing and etiquette, and agree an outline plan of events as you want them to be. I'd love to be the difference that will make your guests talk about your wedding long after you've said: "I Do!"."

Nicola West

"Hi I am Nicola. An multi-award-winning celebrant with over 20 years of experience in and around the wedding industry, I know what it takes to create not just a great ceremony but a truly beautiful, bespoke and heartfelt ceremony. I have the honour of working with over 50 couples a year, and each one of their ceremonies are individual as the couples themselves. Your wedding ceremony should be a truly personal and bespoke where you are able to express your love for each other, exchange vows and share your story surrounded by your family and friends. The most wonderful thing about a Celebrant-led ceremony is you are able to include moments of light, fun and happiness and of course lots of love. From keeping with the more traditional ceremony or something completely bespoke, It's your ceremony, so make sure to have it your way! Working with you both I take time to write and create a ceremony that is a true reflection and celebration of your love story and journey together. Why settle for a standard registrar-led ceremony when you can have truly memorable and spectacular! "Always be sure to personalise the most important moments in your life"

PHOTOGRAPHERS

Tom Hampson Photography

"I'm Tom, a documentary style wedding photographer based in South Oxfordshire. I pride myself on my relaxed approach and friendly attitude. My natural and honest style appeals to couples who want to incorporate authentic photography into their day. For some having their picture taken can be daunting, especially with guests around so I try my hardest to make everyone around feel at ease."

WHY I LOVE WORKING IN THE WEDDING INDUSTRY

TOP WEDDING TIP

"My top wedding tip is 'you do you!' Hands down the best weddings I have been a part of were honest and represented the couples personalities and passions. Everything comes together when the couple put themselves at the heart of it all."

"I'm a people person so my favourite thing about this industry is being around people. I love watching families and groups of friends coming together to have a great time and the best part of my job is to capture that energy, those positive vibes and that love for ever more. I feel lucky to have a front row seat at such an intimate experience and I radiate off their positive energy, seeing people's love for each other. Being witness to such moments is a fantastic way to be integrated into a wedding and offers me the opportunity to capture the most natural images when people are truly being themselves."

Katrina Matthews

"Hey, I'm Katrina! A cake loving, animal mad, wedding photographer based in Hertfordshire and I'm so lucky to travel around the UK capturing couples in love."

For me the best wedding photos are the most natural, caught unaware, expressing real emotion & laughter and my relaxed style of photography embraces this. By blending in with your guests I can document real moments, show off your personalities and capture all the fun, excitement, and crazy dance moves from your big day. My favourite thing to capture is laughter, you can't fake it, when it's uncontrollable and full of emotion there is nothing better. I also love to throw in a bit of extra fun for good measure. Whether it be smoke bombs for the bridal party or popping open a bottle of Champagne for some exciting couple shots, I want to help make your day as special as it can possibly be"
